

Promotions Permission

Ability WA likes to include customers in marketing and promotions.

Their marketing and promotions include showing off their services and good work at Ability WA.

It can mean sharing your story. It might include pictures, videos or voice recordings of you, or information about your story.

You can choose if you want to be a part of any marketing or promotions.

If you say yes to being a part of a promotion, you need to know your photos and information will be made public. They might be seen online, in the newsletter or in advertising.

Sometimes, people who are seen in public can have mean comments made about them. Ability WA will do everything they can to make sure that doesn't happen to you.

If you change your mind about being in a promotion, you can tell Ability WA at any time to not use your pictures or your story in the future.
